

Karmic Lifesciences announces strategic partnership with Strategic Capital Investments LLC

New York, Aug 12, 2008: Karmic Lifesciences Inc. (Karmic) and Strategic Capital Investments LLC. (SCI) have announced a strategic alliance for providing end-to-end service offerings in the clinical research and development space targeted at global pharmaceutical, biotechnology and medical device companies on a worldwide basis.

Under the agreement, Karmic will act as a strategic operating partner for SCI and provide end-to-end delivery encompassing Regulatory Consulting, Clinical Trial Management, Clinical Data Management, Bio-statistics, Medical Writing and Pharmacovigilance services from its delivery base in Mumbai. SCI will in turn, through its network of partners and contacts in the US pharmaceutical industry generate new business opportunities for Karmic. SCI will also support Karmic in terms of identifying potential investors and garnering growth capital to fuel Karmic's growth plans.

This partnership will benefit both parties by leveraging Karmic's India presence and clinical capabilities and SCI's access to strategic clients and investors and thereby help build a sustainable business and revenue model.

"This partnership provides us with a credible partner and useful access to strategic clients and investors alike. We see it as highly strategic to our growth" said Nidhi Saxena, CEO, Karmic Lifesciences. "SCI has faith in Karmic's ability to deliver highest quality standards and best scientific solutions in the clinical research and development space. Hence we consider it a strategic and highly valuable operating partner" added Pat Sonti, COO/Vice President, SCI.
